

HOW TO COMPLETE THE ORAL LANGUAGE ASSESSMENT?

Overall Teacher Judgement (OTJ) Observational assessment supported by evidence.

- Observe the learner in a range of contexts (in class, in the playground, with whanau etc).
- Talk time to have deep conversations with the learner (authentic).

STEPS

1. Complete a draft version based on your existing knowledge of the learner.
2. Identify any areas that you are not sure about.
3. Go and seek observational evidence for the things you are unsure about.
4. Review the rubric again now you have a deeper knowledge of the learner's oral language behaviours.
5. Have a professional discussion with a colleague or work with your team to justify your decisions.
6. Where possible, provide evidence for your decisions.

TYPES OF EVIDENCE YOU COULD COLLECT

- Student voice videos or voice recordings
- Journal entries about things you have observed
- Whanau voice
- Peer assessment
